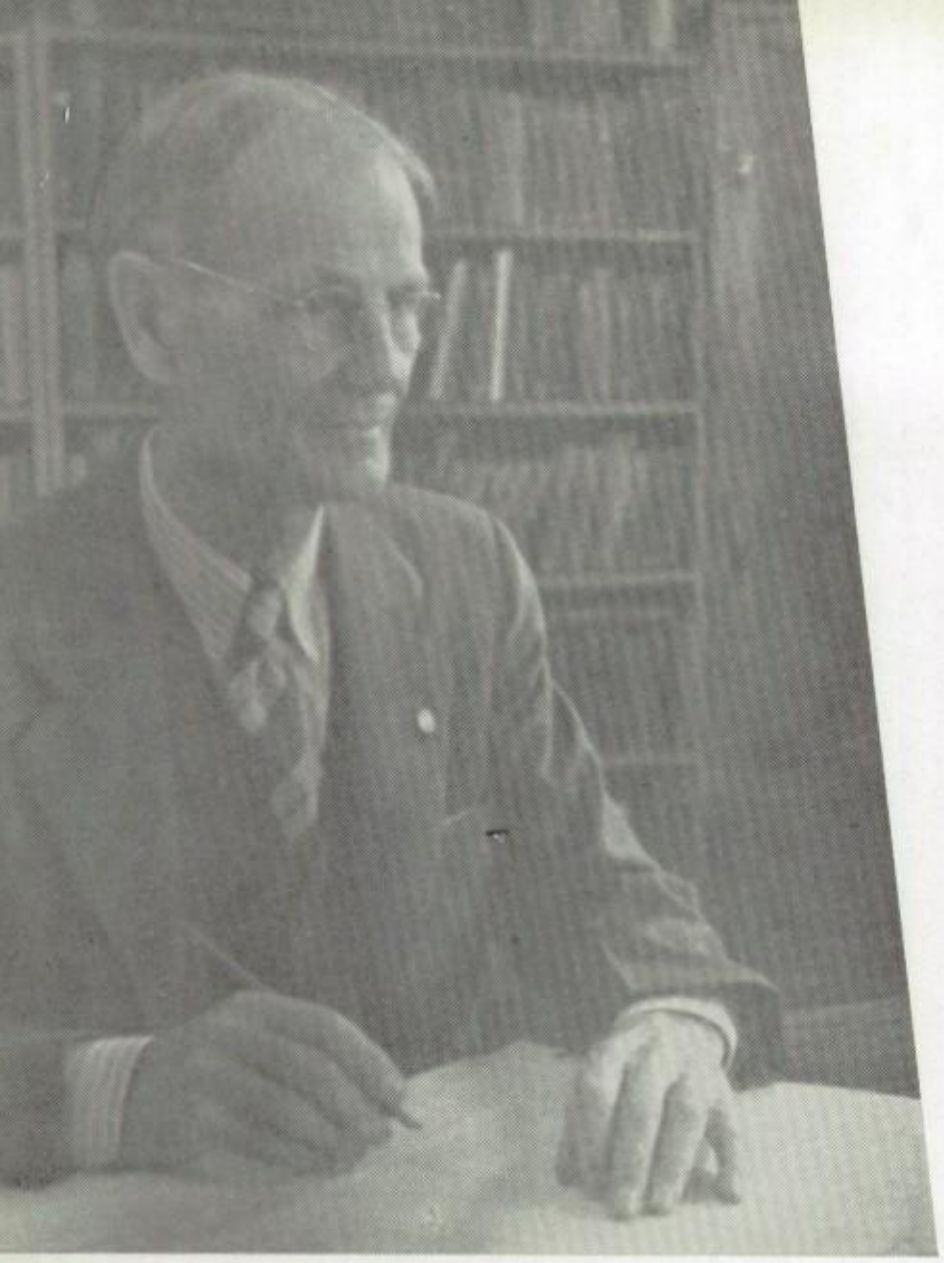
BEATRICE HIGH

SCHOOL

BEATRICE,

NEBRASKA



DEDICATED TO

not because he has been an ardent enthusiast of the Beatrice Athletics Association and actually coached for thirty years nor because he taught biology for twenty-two years and has been an important member of our science department since not because he has been active in civic affairs

neither because in the last three years he established and now heads a new department of Visual Education and not because he is the present secretary of the Board of Education

But because for thirty-nine years he has given instinctively to Beatrice High School his time and unselfish effort

Because his sole aim always has been to develop and better our school and community

Because his principle of sportsmanship, fair play, and honesty has been an inspiration to hundreds of his pupils

And because H. M. Garrett will long be remembered in the history of our school

In appreciation, we gratefully dedicate to him this 1942 Homesteader.

FOREWORD

A year has passed. Part of your life has gone and you cannot recover it. Nothing can ever replace the friendships that you made in B. H. S. Our nation made historic decisions during this year which will cause it to be remembered in history. Likewise, you have made decisions, which though small, have shaped your life and career toward the future. And for that reason the staff has compiled this volume for you. If the 1942 Homesteader brings back memories and lets you live again the days once spent here, then the sincerest wish of the Homsteader staff has been fulfilled.

SENIORS

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! The outstanding senior class of '42 has left in its wake a memorable and pace-making year.

● THE SENIOR CLASS:

● Was all a-glitter by the twelve men on our valiant football squad; five senior boys were the spark of a fighting basketball team.

● Will never forget question asked by certain chemistry teachers on the melting point of lipstick—directions given for parking your car while out riding with your girl friend.

● Sparkled again by giving a class play entitled "The Royal Family," which was about a theatrical family and their domestic troubles.

● Had outstanding seniors on the debate squad for the best recorded year for some period.

● Had a few musical members who did their part by entering a pageant and minstrel blackface show.

● Walked down the last steps in high school in blue caps and gowns.

● Had only one disappointment—they wanted to be patriotic by cutting the Junior-Senior banquet, and had only the prom along with a reception.

And so the grieving of time lingers on as the bells again toll for a glorious and happy class of '42.

JUNIOR SCRIPT

The Juniors of 1941-1942 bravely cast aside the criticism of the Seniors and rose to worthy positions, high honors and efficiency with the aid of their sponsors, Miss Merwin, Miss Mohr, Miss Reilly, Miss Sturmer, Mr. Ashburn, Mr. Crandall and Mr. Planteen.

Early in January a campaign of slogans and posters resulted in the election of Hugh Houchin as president, Marjorie Barnard as vice-president, Kathryn Damrow as secretary and Robert McCue as treasurer.

On May 8, all traditions were disregarded and perhaps a precedent begun, when the Juniors entertained the Seniors at a prom and party in place of a banquet.

"The High School Mystery," a mystery thriller by Robert St. Clair, was the Junior Class play. The play, which involved a play by high school students within a play, proved to be an innovation in plot and presentation.

Lorene Novotny, Rosemary Whitworth, Robert Calkins, Dean Slaughter, and Paul Andreas comprised one-half of the debate squads which took part in several tournaments.

The library staff was well-filled with Juniors, including Florence Stewart, head librarian, Edna Huttenmaier, assistant librarian and fifteen regular librarians. Many Juniors were also monitors.

The Student Club Cabinet consisted mainly of Juniors: Lorene Novotny, Anne Shaffer, Janette McGinnis, Edna Huttenmaier, and Phyllis Salisbury, while Lois Timken, Anne Shaffer, Phyllis Salisbury, Marjorie Barnard and Betty Morton were on the Girls' Club Council.

Several talented Juniors were honored during the year. A Scholastic Art Prize was given to Charles Judd, a first-place winner in the Miller and Paine Art Exhibition, for his artistic ability. Robert Calkins had the solo role in "Ballad for Americans" for the Pagent and Walter Herron was the accompanist. In the band, Margaret Straub was a twirler and Robert Logan was made captain and student director.

In the field of athletics, the Juniors were not entirely overshadowed by the upper classmen. Clifford Wise and Elmer Gibson were on the basketball squad. Varsity football letters were earned by Keith Baker, Leo Busboom, Hugh Houchin, Lynn Replogle, Don Schimenti, Kenneth Schultz, Bill Sonderegger, Tim Sullivan, Eugene Theis and Robert Jay, student manager. Tim Sullivan was on the swimming team and entered state meets.

Of the fourteen girls in the Zip Club, two are officers: Janette McGinnis, secretary and Margaret Straub, vice-president.

Thus, as the year draws to an end, the Juniors close their fine record and await the challenge as Seniors.

STUDENT COUNCIL

As always, the Student Council completed a very active year of hot debate and progessive discussion. Because of the prevailing world affairs, the form of business was altered somewhat. In accord with the war effort, the traditional "Tea Dances" were changed to "War Dances," with refreshments given and the proceeds used to buy a bond for B. H. S. As our humble aid to the National Red Cross, the school graciously gave $60 in a Student Council sponsored campaign. The council was under the leadership of its officers: Clarence Plank, president; Bill Suhr, vice-president; Barbara Buckley, secretary, and Katherine Henderson, treasurer. L. E. Henderson and Miss Linnea Peterson were sponsors.

Quite noteworthy also were the panel discussions held simultaneously at Lincoln Northeast and Central and Beatrice sponsored by the student councils. The topics for discussion pertained directly to the work of the student body in advancing the war effort.

It was news when Bill Suhr was elected president of the 1942 Convention of the Student Councils of Nebraska, with Millicent Cook serving as state recording secretary.

John Woodward was second-semester editor, with Jerry Feldt, Charles Van Arsdale, Stewart Edson, Frances Williams, and Devan Hershey as assistants.

A few juniors served on the staff the second semester. Miss Nelle Gingles is the adviser.

HOMESTEADER

The Homesteader Staff has again brought to you a picture of B. H. S. school life and activities. Millicent Cook served as editor, Barbara Buckley as assistant editor and Miss Gingles as sponsor. The Homesteader Board, composed of Barbara Buckley, Bascom Birmingham, Bill Butler, Duane Bohnstedt, and Dale Nevitt, as well as the entire staff, spent much time and work in making this book.

Barbara Buckley was chosen as chairman of the meetings which were held every Monday after school. Miss Alice Winsor was the financial secretary.

WRITERS' CLUB

The Writers' Club, a new group in our school, was organized this year by students interested in writing as a hobby. The general aim and purpose is to stimulate interest in original writings and to raise standards of written composition in high school.

Programs consisted of the reading of poems and prose sketches written by students in our own, as well as other schools.

All students in high school were asked to submit original works to be read and analyzed by the club. At the end of the year, the best works selected were bound and left in the school library.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y is noted for its platform of clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living. During the past year the Hi-Y of this High School has rendered many services to the school and community through its upholding of its platform.

This club is not all hard work, but we do find time for play at our annual Christmas party and at our several hay-rack rides and our many social get-togethers.

The past year we have had two new sponsors, one of which was to leave during the school year, at which time he was honored with a party. This man, as you know, was Mr. A. E. Kohr.

We, through the past year, have tried to learn the teaching of man and God so that we might be more able to continue toward the good which is success.

Mr. Infelt and members.

Look at the "birdie"!

CAMERA CLUB

This club is for the purpose of high school camera fans. Many night meetings were held during the year for developing and printing of pictures. Though the attendance was not great the meetings were successful and accomplished their purpose of creating interest in advanced photography. Leaders in this profession and local business men appeared before the club and covered the field at large. Mr. Gale particularly is to be commended for his talk on the merits and prices of cameras and their relation to each other when one is considering buying a camera.

The club was sponsored by Mr. Planteen, noted for his interest in the hobby.

F. T. A.

The F. T. A. Club is an organization for future teachers of America. Anyone can become a member by paying ten cents dues to the organization.

Club meetings are held every two weeks regularly and on the first Monday of each month. There is a variety of programs and social events at the night meetings.

These activities have included programs on State day, first aid, and rural teaching, Christmas baskets, knitting for the Red Cross and decorating for the Orange and Black banquet.

One big event of the year is the party given by the seniors from the normal training class for the rural teachers under whom they were going to practice their teaching.

STUDENT CLUB

Student Club is a Y. W. C. A. organization of senior high girls under the sponsorship of Miss Webb. The affairs of the club are directed by the cabinet consisting of the officers and committee chairmen as follows: Mary Ann Mattoon, president; Phyllis Salisbury, vice-president; Edna Huttenmaier, secretary; Janice Robinson, treasurer; Lorene Novotny, Anne Shaffer, Millicent Cook, Martha Mae Kirschner, Lorene Bowhay, Jeanette McGinnis and Jane Mudge. Meetings, alternating between serious and humorous ones, ranged from a pre-Easter service to a kid party. As a defense project, club members knitted for the Red Cross.

New features of Student Club this year include a yearbook, an enlarged cabinet, a Pioneer column, and birthday parties for all members.

Mary Ann Mattoon, Phyllis Salisbury and Anne Shaffer represented the club at Girl Reserve Conference during the summer. At the fall convention, Lorene Novotny was elected state recording secretary.

PATROL

Under the direction of Mr. Crandell, the patrol boys directed traffic on Fifth street every day before and after school. Volunteers from each home room were assigned to duty for a week at a time. Kenneth Young was captain and Donald Renner was his assistant.

SAFETY COUNCIL

The Junior Safety Council is an essential part of our school. Through the work of this organization, the pedestrians, and drivers of automobiles and bicycles are able to travel much more safely. Now, more than ever, organizations of this type are needed.

Death rates have gone up regardless of the effort everyone is putting forth to prevent it. This organization co-operates with the Senior Safety Council and the school Patrol. It discusses problems with them on the safety of the entire city. It has speakers from the fire department, the city police department and speakers from other sources.

The officers of the Safety Council are president, Robert Suhr; vice-president, Richard Schidler; secretary, Wilda Ramsey, and treasurer, Eugene Mumford.

The Beatrice Club is interested in many of the fields of science such as chemistry, physics, astronomy, and biology and several divisions of these.

The officers this year were Bobby Jo Kees, president; and Marchetta Peterson, secretary-treasurer.

Membership is open to all those interested in science whether enrolled classes or not. All three classes were represented in the roll of over twenty members.

USHERS

The Ushers offer their services at most all activities of the community and school. Through the school year they help at concerts, basketball games, school plays, operettas, baccalaureate, and commencement exercises.

H. L. Beal is their supervisor. During the year of 1941-1942 there were forty-seven members, three of them being boys. The ushers are chosen from the sophomore, junior and senior classes with the thought in mind of their ability to meet their public in a courteous and pleasant manner.

From this year's ushers twenty-five will graduate. Their places will be refilled by the incoming sophomore, junior and senior classes.

They serve not only at functions held in the Junior High auditorium but at programs in City auditorium as well.

LIBRARIANS

Although severely handicapped by the lack of new books, the library has had a very successful year. In response to the request of the National Library Association, Beatrice High School joined in the Victory Book Campaign and received over two hundred books.

During the year, the pamphlet and clipping files have been greatly increased.

The first semester the staff consisted of thirty-two members, thirty full-time workers, and two part-time workers. However, during the second semester, the staff was increased to thirty-eight, with the addition of six sophomores.

Under the direction of Florence Stewart, head librarian, and Edna Huttenmaier, assistant head librarian, the library has prepared many interesting and informative bulletin boards and displays in keeping with the present national situation.

"Let's look it up."

MONITORS

The monitor system is completing its ninth year of service to Beatrice High School. Although a very important service is rendered, few schools have such a system.

The Monitors are a group of forty-eight students, whose duty it is to receive visitors, direct traffic in the halls, assist in the study hall, and perform other special duties. Eight monitors are on duty each period of the day. This is a volunteer group, receiving no school credit or award. In order that the entire group may meet together, luncheon meetings are held occasionally. Each week a monitors' bulletin is issued, giving instructions to the monitors.

Miss Merwin is the sponsor and Mary Ann Mattoon served as head monitor this year.

Interesting programs presented this year were a talk by Mrs. Infeldt, and sub-deb program, which was narrated by Miss Bell.

The club council consists of the following members: Mary Ann Mattoon, president; Betty Morton, vice-president; Leona Falkenroth, sec.-treasurer; senior councillors, Mildred Huttenmaier, Leona Thornburg, Janice Robinson; junior councillors, Margery Barnard, Lois Timken, Anne Shaffer, Phyllis Salisbury, and sophomore councillors, Jean Schneller, Barbara Trindel, and Marchetta Peterson.

The girls enjoyed outside speakers who talked on the various phases of Home Economics and the fields related to it.

There are thirty-five girls enrolled in the club. The officers are as follows: Dolores Darrington, president; Nadine Kulper, vice-president; Anne Shaffer, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Sage, Student Council, and Bernice Young, reporter.

N. F. L.

National Forensic League is a national organization of high school students interested in Forensic contests.

The debate question for this year was, "Resolved, That every able-bodied male citizen should have a year of full-time military training before attaining the present draft age." Highlights of the season included the Wesleyan tournament where Beatrice tied for first in debate, and placed second in extemporaneous speaking and original oratory; and the Hastings tournament where Beatrice placed two superior teams, one excellent team, a superior in rebuttal speaking, and an excellent in extemporaneous speaking. At the N. F. L. District, Beatrice placed fourth in debate, third in extemporaneous speaking, and second in oratorical declamation, and first in original oratory. Altogether, the squad participated in 128 debates, winning 75.

Ready for a trip.

AERO CLUB

The boys and girls interested in aviation and its problems meet on alternate Thursdays to air their opinions and discuss recent developments. This year, the name Strato-Cats was re-selected. Mr. Kohr was sponsor this year and the officers were Bob Seng, president; Charles Brown, vice-president, and Jerry Haase, secretary-treasurer. An indoor contest was held and a very interesting motion picture was secured by the club. Membership was about thirty-five.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Senior Class presented "The Royal Family," a comedy in three acts. The play, by Kaufman and Ferber, centered around the Cavendish family, obviously similar to the famous Barrymores. The Cavendishes comprised three generations. The mad escapades of this interesting family made up the story of the play. Through it all Fanny Cavendish ruled the household with her courage and a sharp tongue. Though her children are idols to the public, they are defenseless under the withering fire of the old lady's sarcasm. One by one they attempted to forsake the stage, but it was too much a part of them, just as Fanny said in the end, "When one drops out, there's always been another one to take his place."

Of course, she said, "Yes."

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

Scream after scream in a dark auditorium sent shivers up and down the spines of a thrilled audience as the Juniors presented "The High School Mystery," December 11 and 12.

This thriller, by Robert St. Clair, contained a play within a play and thus a large part of the action took place in the audience. Secret passageways, lights going off without warning, an attempted murder, a kidnapping and a general state of panic entertained the cast as well as the audience. Anne Shaffer, as the ghost-fleeing maid, injected a spirit of comedy into many otherwise tense situations. The final denouement was a surprise to all.

The play was under the direction of J. J. Planteen.

The Senior High Band has been especially active in the past year. The marching band opened a successful season playing for the home football games, presenting many varied and spectacular events. The marching unit has participated in many other events and served the school and public well.

A system of class instruction has worked out very successfully this year. Through this system every music student in the school receives at least one hour of class instruction each week.

Several students of the band participated in the music clinic, which was held at Fremont. The present situation made it impossible for the band to attend the district contest, but smaller groups and soloists participated with many fine results.

The band is now under a fine new system of discipline. Captain Bobbie Logan leads the Staff officers. Under him are First Lieutenant Merle Bredwell, Second Lieutenant Merwin Lewis and Top Sergeant Charles Zimmerman. Other officers are corporals and sergeants.

After a busy and successful year, the members of the band have decided that a little hard work pays.

ORCHESTRA

Senior High Orchestra has taken steps toward a championship orchestra of symphonic style. The main improvement is instrumentation, but there has also been a noticeable gain in style of playing and tone quality. Without exception, the overtures played were on the national list.

The students and their instructor, J. H. Rennick, have worked diligently to serve their school and community. Through benefit concerts, the payments for risers has been completed. Ensembles taken from the orchestra were popular at many organization meetings. The string group played at ten different places during the year, and some group entertained somewhere nearly every week.

Eight members of the orchestra went to the Music Clinic, which was held at Fremont. Due to the war situation, the orchestra did not compete at the contest, but smaller groups and soloists took part with pleasing results. Much time has been spent, but the results show that the work was worthwhile.

The woodwind quintet and woodwind trio both received superior ratings.

MUSIC CONTESTS

Music contestants made an exceptionally good showing in the high school music contest, held at Geneva, April 17, by winning one highly superior rating and fifteen superiors out of a possible twenty-four.

Because of transportation difficulties, no large groups attended the contest, but the girls' trio, madrigal group, instrumental quintet, and wood-wind trio, all received superior rating.

Robert Calkins, medium voice, won highly superior plus at the national regional contest in Omaha. Dorothy Saas, medium voice and the madrigal group, won superior at the same contest.

"Is dat the truf, Mr. Bones?"

MINSTREL SHOW

The first black-face Minstrel show by an all-male cast, to be held in Beatrice, was given by the Boys' Glee Club on March 20, 1942. Typical of the old black-face shows of the nineteenth century in the lines and the type of songs the minstrel show was a big hit. Interlocutor was Jerry Hasse and the end men were: Harold Dieken, as Erasmus; Billy Sonderegger, as Nasturtium; Frank Thatcher, as Bones, and Bob Goodrich, Sambo. High lights of the show were a tap dance by Jerry Hasse, soft-shoe dancing, by Frank Thatcher, and solos by Arlington Tyser, Eugene Theis, Wayne Colby, Henry Penner, Herbert Brokering, and Bob Calkins.

A chorus of sixty was accompanied by Emmylu Goertz, Orveta Brumley, and Wayne Colby. Two special octettes were featured and the whole show was made a success under the skillful direction of Miss Lucille Reilly.

There are forty-three girls in the Girls' Glee Club, which meets second hour on Mondays and Wednesdays and with the Boys' Glee Club on Fridays.

The Christmas vesper program given in the assembly was presented by the Glee Club and small groups.

Music given at senior class night was presented by the Girls' Glee Club.

Boys Glee Club is made up of boys from all the classes—sophomore, junior, and senior. Their most successful presentation this year was the black-face minstrel show. This event was highlighted by tap dancing, solos, and group singing. Under the direction of Miss Lucille Reilly, the boys have worked hard and accomplished many worth-while things.

The choir, a small select group, composed of twenty-five voices, sang for several convocations, including the Christmas and Easter programs. This group provided the foundation for the presentation of "The Ballad For Americans," a patriotic ballad, which was given in November. Robert Calkins was the narrator-soloist. In February, it presented a vesper service at the Christian Church. This was an entirely sacred concert, anthems by Bach, Rachmaninoff, Palestrina being featured. As was the custom, the choir sang for the annual Baccalaureate service.

MADRIGAL SINGERS

A new group, called the Madrigal Singers was started second semester. Members were: Betty Plank, Barbara Buckley, Dorothy Saas, Emmylu Goertz, Helen Sack, Ruby George, Bob Bergstrasser, Henry Penner, Bob Suhr, Robert Calkins, Jerry Hasse, and Marvin Larson. Singing in typical madrigal style, around a table, this group sang for various civic clubs and convocations.

THE SEXTETTE

The Senior High Sextette sang for several civic clubs and the Christmas convocation. Its members were: Betty Morton, Jackie Ray, Ellen Claassen, Edith Busboom, Ruth Potts, and La Vina Christie.

THE TRIO

The Trio, Dorothy Saas, Emmylu Goertz, and Ruby George, sang for Kiwanis and several convocations, including the Christmas program.

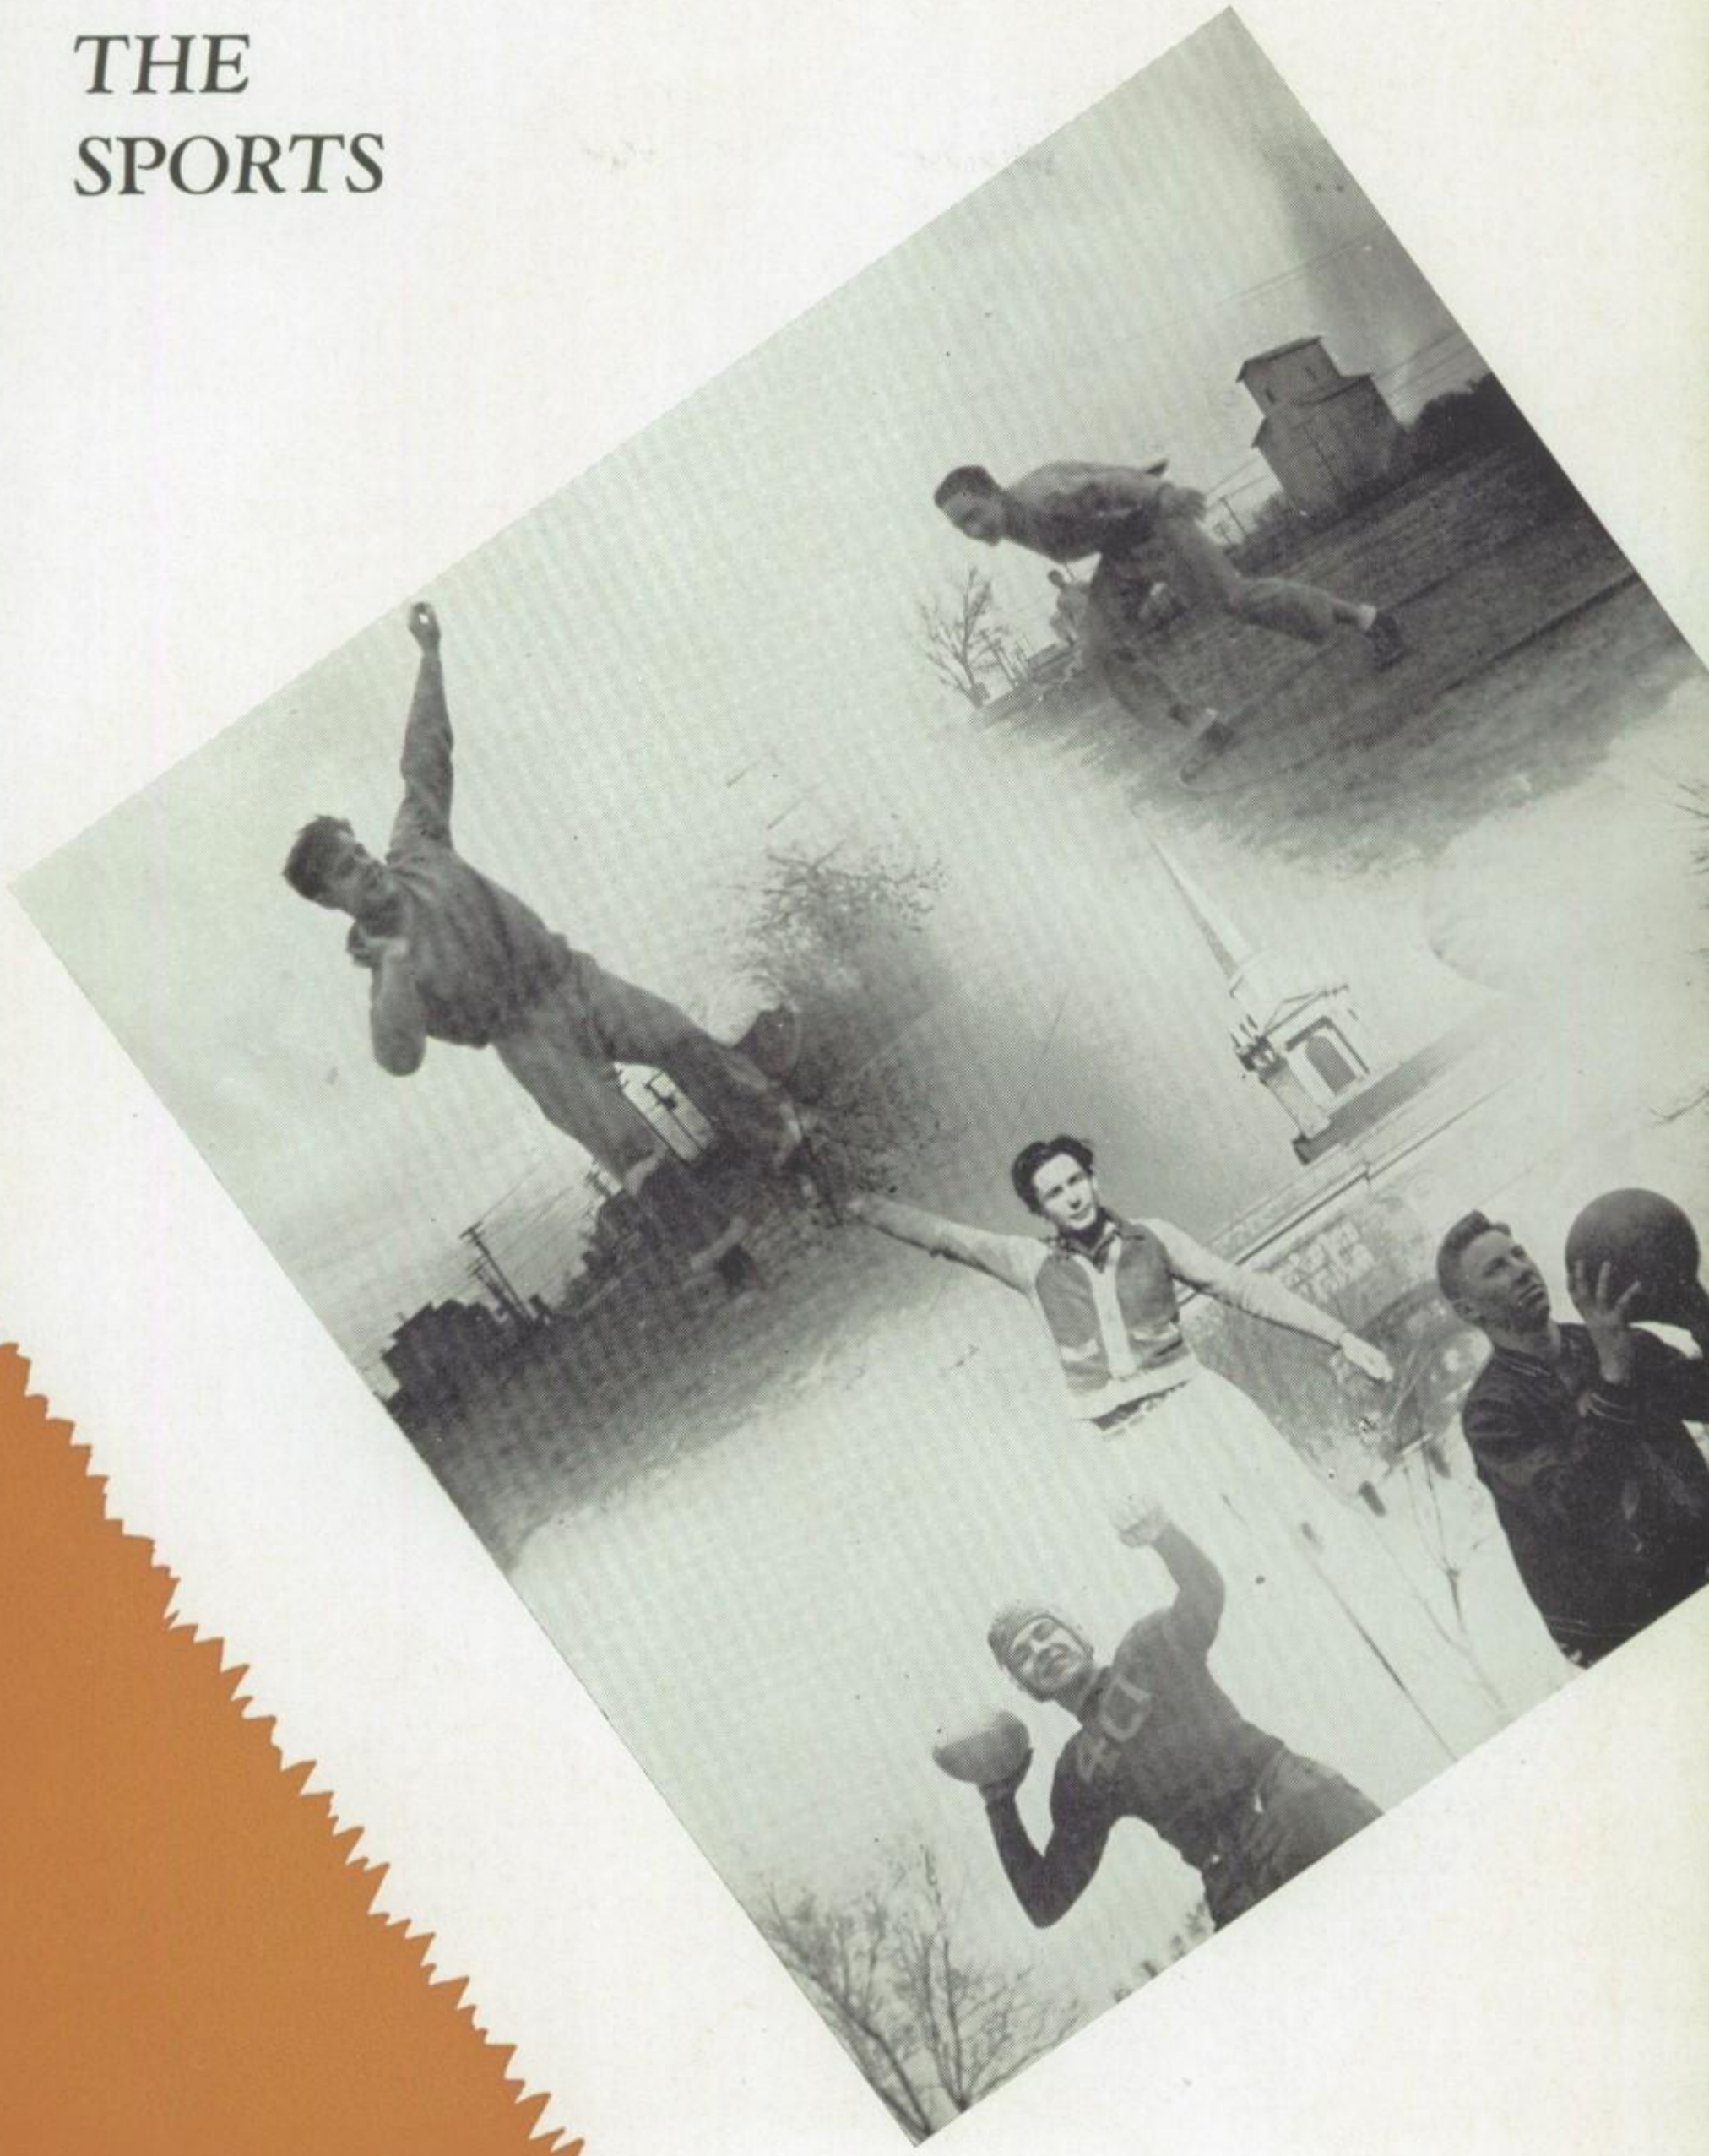
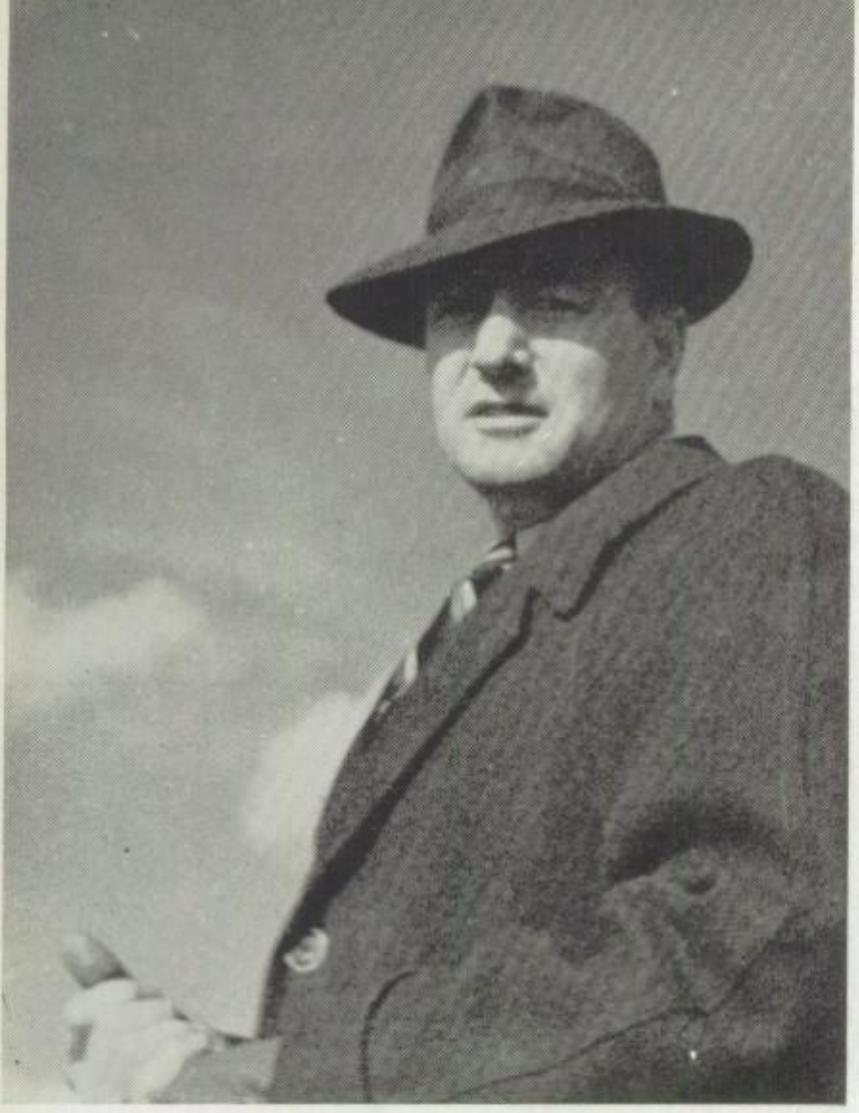
THE SPORTS



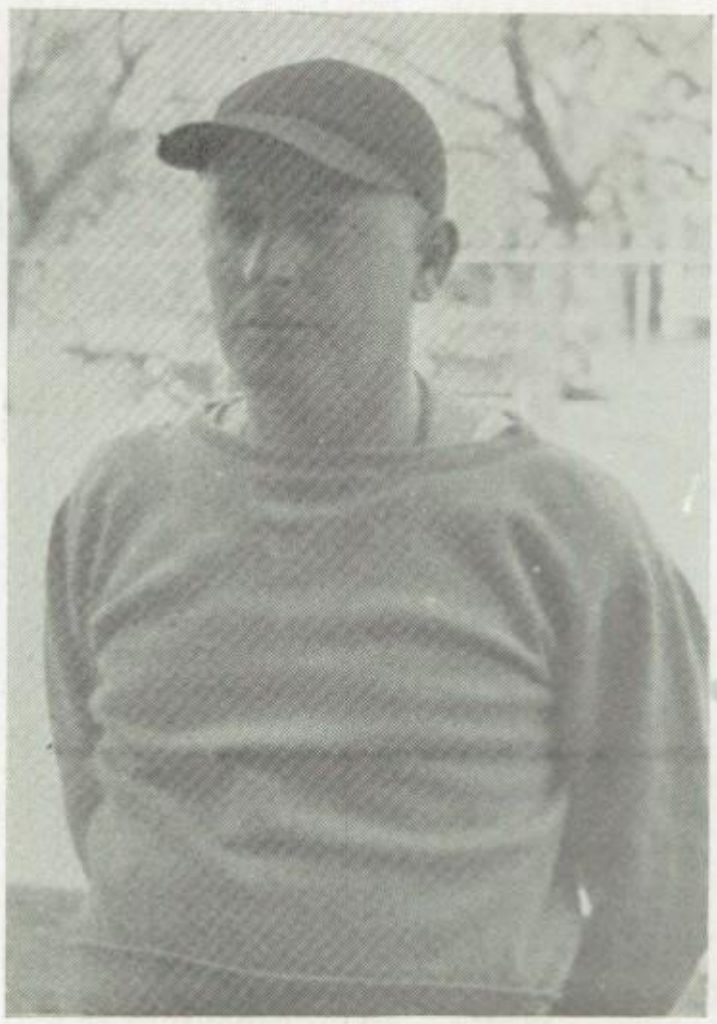
OUR COACHES



C. A. ASHBURN

Clifford Ashburn, head coach, has been on the staff two years. A former University of Nebraska star, he coached the Curtis Aggies and made a fine record before coming to Beatrice. Ashburn was cited as outstanding coach of the year last season for developing a fine team from inexperienced men. He has developed many fine teams since coming to Beatrice.

E. C. HIGGINBOTHAM



Max Barret, assistant coach, is for the sixth year, helping to build better teams. A former Wesleyan star, he also has charge of reserve basketball.

E. C. Higginbotham for seventeen years has been reserve coach of athletics. Giving his time to reserve football, track and gym, "Higg" has been building fine teams and has been a great help to the head coach.

Robert Latta, out of retirement for a second year, gave his aid to the line that proved their worth many times.

MAX BARRETT

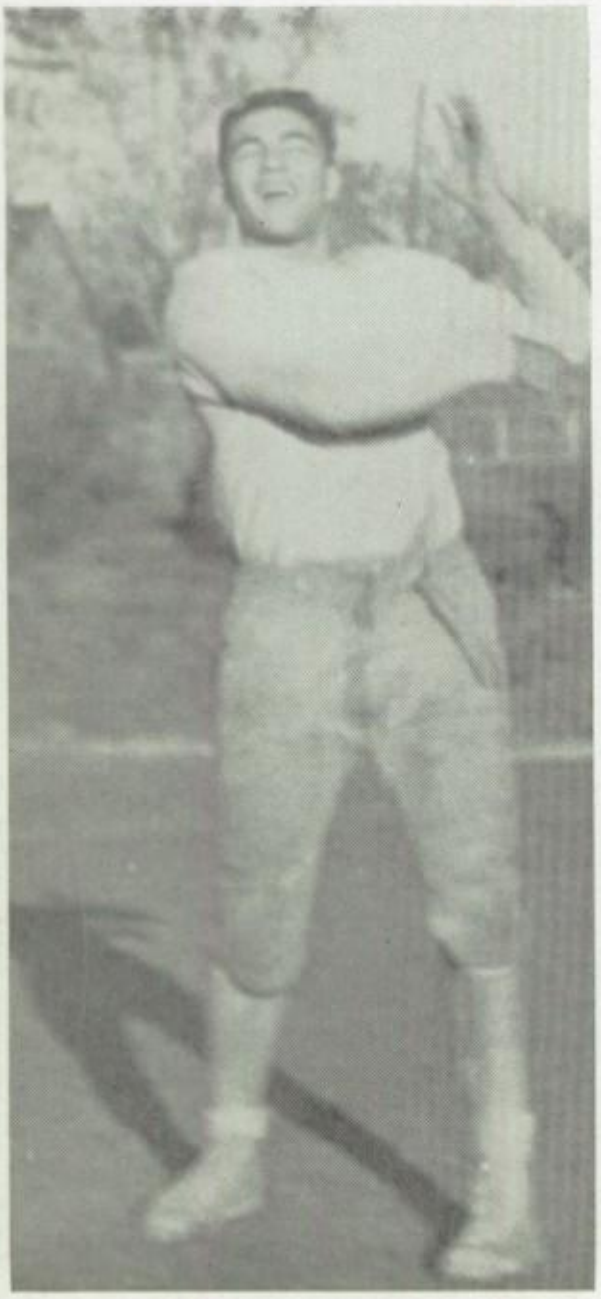
FOOTBALL

Beatrice Orangemen had a fair season considering the fact that their victorious opponents ranked among the top ten teams in the state. The season got away to a poor start, with the Orangemen dropping the first two games to Falls City by 12-0 and to Northeast, a new opponent, 30-0. They came back to hold their old rival, Wymore, 0-0. They again hit the dumps and dropped two more games to Alliance, who came 400 miles to spill Beatrice 19-0 and to a flashy York squad 20-0. They then acquired a fighting spirit that downed Columbus 19-0 and Crete bowed to a Beatrice bombardment 6-0. Fairbury Jeffs took the wind out of the Beatrice sails by a 13-6 Turkey day epic that was enough to break anybody's heart. A tough Hastings squad was closely beaten by a 12-14, a 2-point margin.

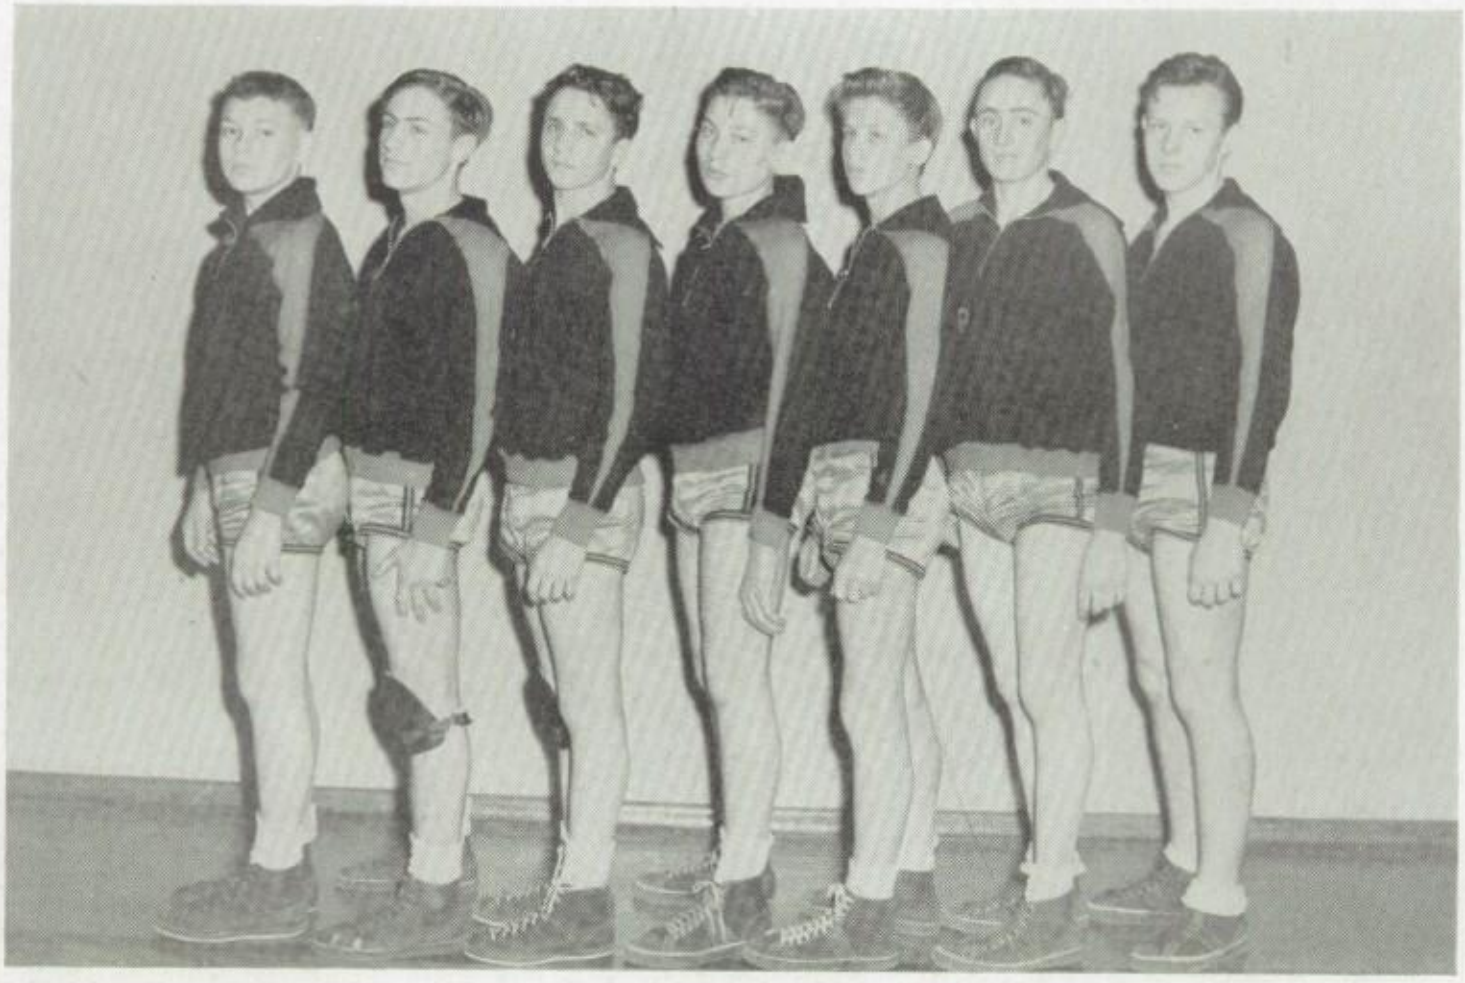
Calvin Axtell was voted the season's most valuable player at the annual Jaycee banquet, for his outstanding backfield play. Charles Zimmerman was also a standout in pass snagging, pulling two verdicts into his arms. Hugh Houchin was a standout for his punting ability, and Don Horen for his backfield play.

As there was no reserve football in the 1941 season, all material received experience in varsity play. Many lettermen will answer the call to the colors next season.



"Check your coat?"

RESERVE BASKETBALL



Dunn, Sprague, Witcofski, Rohrer, Wilson, Roschewski, Goodrich.

Experiencing a favorable season, the reserves won the greater number of their games. The season started by dumping Union Center 23-21. Beatrice trekked to Wymore and scalped the Zephyrs in a 36-12 run-away. An over-favored Falls City team felt the Orangemen's blade as the score of 24-10 favored Beatrice. The biggest upset of the season was at Hebron. The Hebronites dumped in only 3 points to lose 30-3. Having losses with the victories, the Orangemen went in circles and shoved only 8 points when outclassed by a superior Lincoln 8-18. Laurels also fell to Fairbury in a 21-26 disappointment.

Pep rally for the game tonight.

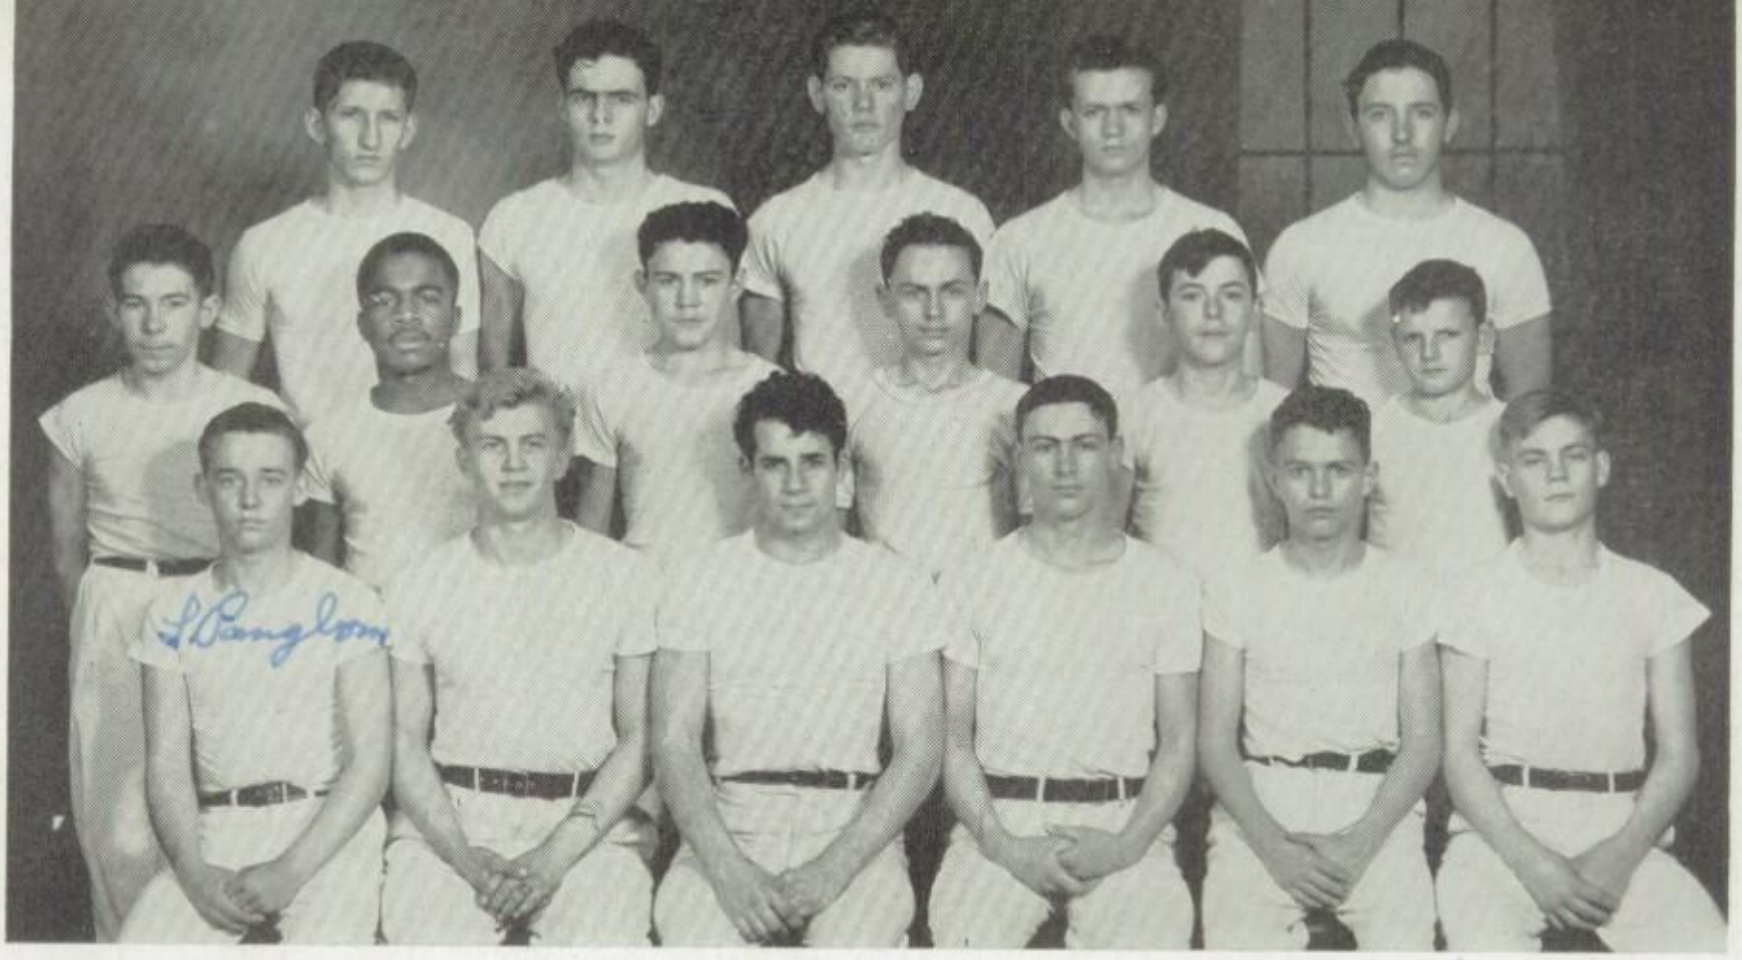
VARSITY BASKETBALL

Varsity cagers started the season by dropping a heart-breaker to Marysville 33-32. With this bad omen, plus a few black cats, the Orangemen dropped a 36-13 to Nebraska City. This bad luck held for the next two games. Crete chalked up a 36-31 victory and Fairbury tallied a 27-23 count. The hoopsters then hit their stride and bagged a 36-26 points over a cold York five. Plattsmouth was next to bow to the Orange onslaught by 40-35. Northeast's Black and White trimmed an icy Beatrice quint 36-18. Hebron was the next stop and was bagged by a neat 23-20. The Orange and Black were again on the road for a promising 37-28 victory over their old rival, Wymore. Fremont and Auburn were next to fall under the Orange machine by a verdict of 42-31. Auburn's boys took a 24-22 victory. The Beatricians ended the season by a cleaning received from Lincoln Central to the tune of 60-31.

The season as a whole was quite successful. Marvin Larsen was the outstanding hoopster with a final of 222 points to his credit. This was sufficient to tally first in Mid-east circles. Axtell, with 105 points to his credit, checked in for a second on the Beatrice team. Clifford Wise, with 83 points chalked up, was third high.

The B. H. S. Quintet.

An exciting moment.



GYM TEAM

Top row: Fulton, Nevitt, Warren, Bridgewater, Miller.
2nd row Wilkie, Beck, Arterburn, Cook, Bitting, Corey.

GYM

Under the tutelage of Ed Higginbotham, the Beatrice Gym Team struggled against great odds to come home from the state gym meet with a fourth place and a score of 1,083. Beatrice being beaten by Omaha Benson, Hastings, and Grand Island, placed two men. Wayne Bitting took third honors on the horizontal bar. Phillip Sprague won fourths on the flying rings and side horse and a third on the parallel bars. A quadrangular meet was postponed because of an epidemic of measles at Benson high.

TRACK

Opening the season with a dual meet at Wymore, the Orangemen were beaten by a brilliant Zephyr squad 71-51. The Wymoreans took eight firsts and tied for another in the pole vault. Beatrice standouts were "Squeak" Eden, an aggressive sophomore, who tied for a first in the pole vault and Hershey and Zimmerman, who led the scoring with ten points each. Other point makers were Colby who placed first in sot-put with a 43' 10" throw and also took second in the discus. Burroughs clocked at a 2:14.7 mile, won first honors, coming through with plenty of drive.

The Orangemen next treked to the Fairbury Invitational, to receive a fourth place with a 28-point total. Honors went to Sonderegger, who, the first time in varsity competition, high-jumped 5' 8", to tie for first and Zimmerman, who also tied for a first in the 100 low hurdles.

For the first time on home soil, Beatrice again held fourth rank. Wayne "Just call me 'Curly'" Colby heaved a sensational 48' 6½" shot to bag a first in that event.

Again on home soil, Beatrice, in competition with the best teams in the state, bagged a third in Class A competition at the twentieth annual Southeast Nebraska track meet.

Colby again heaved to glory for the Orangemen and Burroughs and Hershey brought home firsts in the 220 and the 100 respectively. Beatrice edged out Northeast by an 18½-point total.

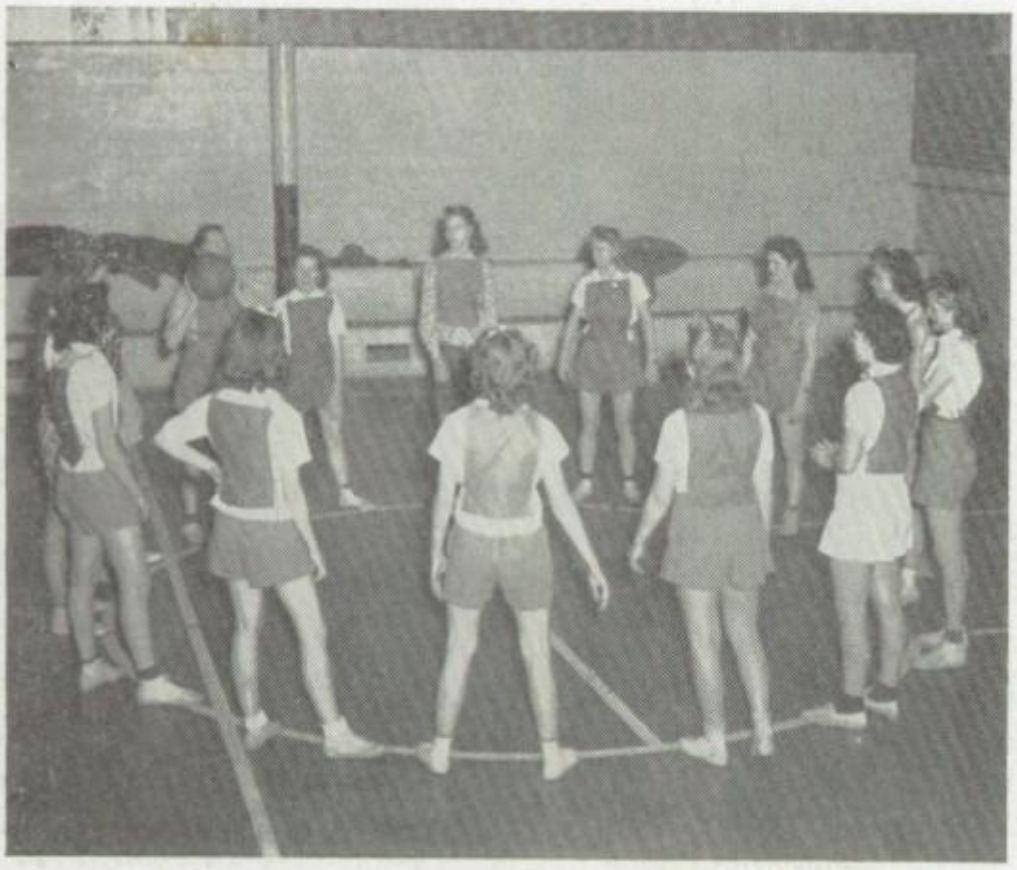
A circle of healthy girls.



The Girls' Athletic Association was organized six years ago in the Senior High school for the girls who were interested in sports. The active interest, and most important, is working toward awards. The awards which may be earned are local, first state, and second state.

To receive these awards, the girls are following certain requirments which are set up by the Nebraska Activities Association. They are required to do a certain number of organized and unorganized activities. This also includes gym classes and after-school sports. The girls are also required to keep training rules during the time they are earning their awards. The training rules include wearing correct shoes, and passing a heart, teeth, and posture examination.

The after-school sports work up to the awards which the girls receive. The girls take part in the following sports: basketball, baseball, soccer baseball, deck tennis, badminton and track.

The purpose of the organization is to promote good sportsmanship among participants.

The officers are as follows: president, Loretta Terry; vice-president, Adella Simoneau; secretary, Beverly Moolick; treasurer, Mary Morris; Student Council, Velma Snyder; point secretary (first semester), Ruby Lampe (second semester), Marguerite Powell; sponsor, Miss Young.

ZIP CLUB

This year there are forty-four girls in the Zip Club, a few more than last year. For the new members, as an initiation, the girls had to wear curlers and no make-up.

The officers are: president, Barbara Buckley; vice-president, Margaret Straub secretary, Modez Deputy; treasurer, Joyce Young; reporter, Janette McGinnis; Student Council representative, JaNelle Sprague; and Defense Council, Elaine Finch. The sponsors are Miss Mohr, and Miss Reilly.

The main project for the year was the preparation and presenting of skits for each pep-rally. These were original and pepped up the students very effectively.

The girls co-operating with the Student Council gave a party in the Y. M. C. A. in honor of the Alliance students here for the game.

Being a service organization as well as a pep club, the Zippers donated five dollars from the treasury to the High School Red Cross fund.

A square-dance party, under the leadership of Miss Young, and accompanied by Miss Brumley, was held in the Senior High gym in February.

"B" CLUB

The "B" Club consists of the athletic members of the school who have won a letter in either a major or minor sport. This organization was constructed for the purpose of developing and furthering sports interests in the school. This year, many discussions were held on the subject of "The School Backing Sports" and "The Promotion of sports in Beatrice High." The main points were: to get more boys interested in sports, and to create a greater interest among the boys of the school.

The officers of the year were as follows: president, Don Horen; vice-president, Calvin Axtell; secretary, Max Burroughs; treasurer, Clarence Plank.

Twenty-four new members were taken into the organization at the "B" Club initiation. Another big event of the year was the picnic that was held in the spring.

The "B" Club is sponsored by Coach Ashburn.
